

Key articles from the BSS December 2015 Bulletin

The Tetrahedron Cairn – Mark Lennox-Boyd

Andrew Somerville and his Snow Obelisk Dial – James Holland

Bratwursts, Vineyards and Sundials – Dennis Cowan

What Happened to the Raunscliffe Hall Dial? – Martin Jenkins

A Transylvanian Analemmatic Sundial Revisited – Dan Uza

Tempus Fugit! – Ian Butson

Who Made these English Dials? – Mike Cowham

'Langlois Slot' Time Frog and Time Toad – Malcolm Bishop

Horizontal Azimuth Dials – Mike Cowham

In the Footsteps of Thomas Ross: Part 13. The One That Got Away – Nearly – Dennis Cowan

A Disregarded Seventeenth-Century Horizontal Dial from Scotland – John Davis

Double Restoration at Barnes – Keith Scobie-Youngs

Designing Sundials Using 3D Drawing Software: Implementing the BSS Horizontal Sundial – Phil Walker

A Medieval Sundial from the Benedictine Monastery of Kaposzentjakab, Hungary) – Máté Varga and Sándor Keszthelyi